CHAPTER 285.

AN ACT to amend section 4221 of the Wisconsin statutes of 1898, relating to the limitation of actions.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Limitation of actions for damages for flowage of lands.

SECTION 1. Section 4221 of the revised statutes of the state of Wisconsin of 1898, is hereby amended by adding a new subdivision thereto, to be known as subdivision 5 of said section, which said subdivision shall read as follows: Section 4221. Subdivision 5. An action for the recovery of damages for flowing lands when such lands shall have been flowed by reason of the construction or maintenance of any flooding dam or other dams constructed, used or maintained for the purpose of facilitating the driving or handling of saw logs on the Chippewa, Menomonee, or Eau Claire rivers or any tributary of either of them, provided that in cases where the ten years have already expired, the parties shall have six months from and after the passage and publication hereof within which an action may be brought.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force, from and after its passage and publication.

Approved April 28, 1899.
